Message 1: The Overdue Message

Email Subject Line: Have I Told You Lately How Much I Appreciate You?

Hi (Your Friends' First Name),

Don't Let High Blood Pressure Steal Your Unspoken Words. Get StrictionBP—Now at a $20 Discount! Have I told you lately how much I appreciate you? Time has a way of slipping past before we know it, doesn't it? So I wanted to say it today, in words and through a great $20 discount on an effective all-natural blood-pressure supplement I use and trust called StrictionBP. A proven product that reduces blood pressure, lowers cholesterol and promotes overall health without the negative side effects of blood-pressure medications, StrictionBP protects against uncontrolled high blood pressure (HBP). The other name for HBP: "the silent killer," named so by the American Heart Association because HBP poses serious health risks like stroke and heart attack, but has no symptoms. So you may not know you have HBP until it's too late. It exists like words that never get said to friends and family. To make sure that doesn't happen—and reduce the risks of HBP—I'm inviting you to claim a great $20 discount on your first bottle of StrictionBP. Don't let HBP steal your unspoken words. Click the link below for your exclusive discount membership. I'd appreciate it, just like I appreciate you.

Message 3: The Distance

Email Subject Line: Closure Confirmation

Hi (Your Friends' First Name),

Control High Blood Pressure With StrictionBP—Now at a $20 Discount—and Be There When the Distance Closes Do you sometimes feel 1000 miles apart in your relationship? I've been there and found that trying to quickly fix things often made it worse. After I found what did work, I also found a way to make sure it's always there with a trusted blood-pressure supplement called StrictionBP—now at a great $20 discount. A proven, all-natural daily supplement that reduces blood pressure, lowers cholesterol and promotes overall health, StrictionBP protects against uncontrolled high blood pressure (HBP). Called “the silent killer” by the American Heart Association, HBP poses serious health risks like stroke and heart attack, yet has no symptoms. So you may not know you have HBP until it's too late. In its silence, it's like the silence that can settle into a relationship—sometimes for years—where the only answer is time. To make sure I have it, I started using StrictionBP to take control of my high blood pressure and life. I couldn't bear the idea of distance left permanently unresolved with family or friends because of HBP. And I definitely didn't want to walk around feeling tired, ill or any of the other negative side effects of blood-pressure medications. I feel great and I'm encouraging you to feel the same—because all distances eventually close. The secret: You just have to be there on the day they do. Claim that day! Click the link below for a $20 discount on your first bottle of StrictionBP.

Message 6: The “If Only”

Email Subject Line: Eliminate Regret—and High Blood Pressure—at an Incredible Discount!

Hi (Your Friends' First Name),

Eliminate Regret and High Blood Pressure. Get StrictionBP—Now at a $20 Discount! Do you ever say, “If I only knew then what I know now”? The words are typically attached to regret over something missed or undone. Yet regret isn’t inevitable! It comes down to awareness, which is why I’m telling you about a trusted blood-pressure supplement called StrictionBP—now at a great $20 discount! An all-natural and proven product that reduces blood pressure, lowers cholesterol and promotes overall health without the negative side effects of blood-pressure medications, StrictionBP protects against uncontrolled high blood pressure (HBP). Called “the silent killer” by the American Heart Association, HBP poses serious health risks like stroke and heart attack, yet has no symptoms. So you may not know you have HBP until it’s too late. I started taking StrictionBP because of my high blood pressure—and I feel great both physically and knowing I didn’t give myself another “if only.” I didn’t leave control of my health and life undone. Had I not taken StrictionBP, family and friends may have wished I had. In other words, I may have left them with an “if only” over lost years together, and regret is never a gift. The real gift we can give them—and ourselves—is years together in vitality and health. Make the right choice by clicking on the link below for a great $20 discount on your first bottle of StrictionBP.
